Foreword

In recognition of the American farmer, the backbone of our great nation, we, the members of the publishing staff, have chosen the farmers of America as our theme. When we have become the farmers and the farmers' wives of tomorrow, the memories of our school days may grow cold; to rewarm these memories in our hearts, we offer this volume of THE FLASH.

We Dedicate-

To you, our parents, this the twenty-third edition of the "FLASH", as an expression of our appreciation for the loving care, sympathy, kindness and affection you have lavished upon us, your sons and daughters. You have paid our bills without complaining; you have sacrificed in order that we might secure the education necessary to make us more worthwhile citizens of our community.

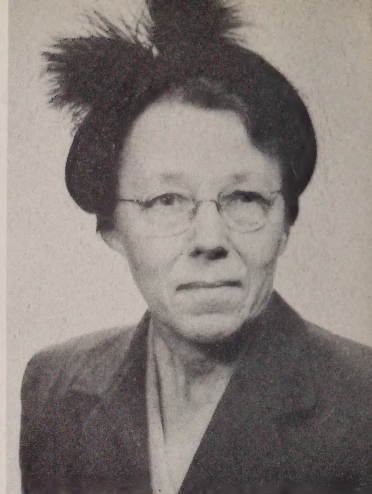

To you, the farmers and farmers' wives, our moms and dads, we dedicate this yearbook.

Mr. J. M. Garber, administrative head of the Prince William County Schools, was a new comer in the fall of 1951. His wide experience and administrative ability qualified him for this high position. During his short time here he has shown a keen interest and a sympathetic attitude toward the school problems of this county. Under his leadership, the schools of Prince William County should make rapid progress.

Mrs. Olive Hooker, for the past four years, has been a member of the Prince William County School Board. Mrs. Hooker has been vitally interested in securing qualified teachers and in improving the instructional program of the Brentsville District School. Her loyalty has won for her many friends in the school system.

Our Administrators Supervise Today And Plan For Tomorrow

Mr. Daniel C. Link, Principal of the Brentsville District High School since the fall of 1950, has shown splendid leadership and administrative ability in his work with students and faculty members. His friendly attitude and his deep interest in young people and adults have won for him a lasting place in our community as well as our school.

HARALD ADOLF KLING

Harald Kling, one of the three hundred and fifty German exchange students sent to the United States last year, entered our school to study in the fields of Agriculture and Government. Harald came to us from Niedermittlau, Hessen, Germany, where his parents now reside. He is sixteen years of age, born on September 9, 1935 and is from a family of three children, of which, he is the oldest. Harald tells us that, in addition to learning farming and government, he is also interested in the customs, habits and the general ideas of the American people. At the end of the school year he will return to Germany to continue his education.
